

SUSTAINING THE GLOBE

YEAR ONE IN A THREE-YEAR SERIES SPONSORED BY THE

CENTER FOR GLOBAL EDUCATION

..... SPRING 2018 EVENTS

JOEY FINERHYME

RAP ARTIST FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

Thursday, April 12 MEILEY SWALLOW THEATRE
7 p.m. - 9 p.m.

Chicago's own educator and rap activist (aka Joey Feinstein) opens this term's series with an evening devoted to environmental activism. Founder and director of Climate Cycle, an organization designed to inspire "students to green our world," His sound system is pedal-powered and run by audience members.

SUSTAINING THE GLOBE

AN EVENING CONFERENCE

Thursday, April 26 RATIO HALL, WENTZ SCIENCE CENTER
6:30 p.m. - 9 p.m.

Celebrating the first year of our Sustaining the Globe campus-wide series, this student-led conference features an opening talk by Fulbright Scholar-in-Residence Hikaru Kobayashi, followed by three sets of concurrent sessions presented by North Central College faculty, international students, and students enrolled in Sustaining the Globe courses.

DAMASCUS WITH LOVE

FILM SHOWING

Wednesday, May 2 SMITH HALL, OLD MAIN
7:00 - 9 p.m.

Directed by Mohamad Abdul Aziz in 2010, this film tells the story of a young Jewish girl whose father reveals some past secrets. It celebrates the Syrian capital that tries to sustain connections with its citizens regardless of their religious affiliations. Riad Ismat, playwright, writer, and former Minister of Culture in Syria will introduce the film.

DUPAGE SYMPHONY: BODY, EARTH, and SPIRIT

OPEN DRESS REHEARSAL (Friday) and CONCERT (Saturday)

Friday, May 4 7:30 p.m. WENTZ CONCERT HALL
Saturday, May 5 8 p.m. WENTZ CONCERT HALL

The DuPage Symphony and the NCC Concert Choir present this concert (and rehearsal) in celebration of music that invokes the natural world. Works by Thomas, Debussy, and Bernstein. Students may attend Friday's rehearsal free of charge; some tickets for Saturday's concert are available in the Center for Global Education.

FORUM ON PARIS CLIMATE AGREEMENT (2016)

CONSULS GENERAL FROM JAPAN AND FRANCE with FACULTY PANEL DISCUSSION

Tuesday, May 22 WENTZ SCIENCE CENTER, ROOM 101
7:00 - 9 p.m.

The Chicago-based Consuls General from both Japan and France will explain the contents and significance of the Paris Agreement. A panel discussion led by North Central College faculty will follow.

All events are free and open to the public unless otherwise noted.
For more information, contact the Center for Global Education at (630) 637-5132.

