The Course (GLS 362-D1: Study Abroad in Germany)

In celebration of North Central College's 156-year history and its roots in Germany, this exciting D-Term study seminar offers students the chance to learn about, explore, and experience German history from the times of Martin Luther to the present. Grounded and informed by international and interdisciplinary perspectives, this 19-day seminar will have three focal points: 1) the development of the German national state from a series of loosely connected yet antagonistic kingdoms and principalities (such as the Kingdom of Prussia, Kingdom of Saxony and the Dukedom of Weimar-Erfurt) to the founding of Germany in 1871 and through the tumultuous 20th century, including the Third Reich, the Creation of East and West Germany, and finally German unification; 2) the evolving notion of German identity, from the rise of the Reformation and role of Martin Luther in creating a sense of German identity; German kingdoms and regional allegiances and identities, and through epochs of 20th century history and their challenges to German identity; and 3) the development of secular and religious architectural styles, from late Gothic and Brick Gothic through Renaissance, Baroque, Rococo and Neoclassicism, to Modernism and how they reflect and call into question German history, attitudes, culture and customs. From the central bases of Berlin and medieval city of Erfurt, the course has an exciting travel itinerary with many day excursions to Potsdam (the seat of the Kingdom of Prussia), Wittenberg (officially named Martin Luther City-Wittenberg in Germany), Dresden (seat of the Kingdom of Saxony), Eisenach (where Luther translated the Bible in German,) and the cultural capitals of the Enlightenment, Weimar, Jena and Gotha.
