Senior Leadership Positions

North Central College seeks outstanding candidates to fill the following leadership positions:

Vice President for Finance/Chief Financial Officer

The Vice President for Finance/Chief Financial Officer (CFO) will provide oversight for the College's financial and administrative functions, ensuring the institution's financial sustainability.

Vice President for Enrollment Strategy

The Vice President for Enrollment Strategy (VPES) will provide strategic leadership for the College's admissions, marketing, and financial aid functions.

Chief People Officer

The Chief People Officer (CPO) will serve as the College's head of human resources (HR), providing strategic leadership and operational oversight for all HR, people, and culture functions.

Under the leadership of President Abiodun Goke-Pariola, North Central College has articulated a bold and forward-looking strategic vision through NCFoward, positioning the institution for sustained excellence and growth. This vision has translated into tangible momentum across the campus, including the enrollment of a record-setting incoming class in fall 2025, exciting planning for a new dining center as Phase I of a two-phase Student Commons project, and the College's most successful Day of Giving to date, with more than $1 million raised in support of students. Together, these achievements reflect a period of stable leadership, strong financial and institutional health, and a shared commitment to advancing student success. With a clear sense of purpose, mission and direction, North Central is poised to ascend as one of the premier private liberal arts and sciences institutions in Illinois and throughout the Midwest.

About North Central College

Founded in 1861, North Central College is a nationally recognized institution serving nearly 3,200 students and located 28 miles west of Chicago in a tree-lined historic district just steps from downtown Naperville, Illinois' third-largest city. The College offers a well-rounded educational experience grounded in academic excellence and personal development, fostering intellectual curiosity, meaningful relationships, and the exchange of ideas that prepare students for lives of leadership, service, and long-term success.

North Central's academic portfolio reflects both depth and breadth, with more than 90 undergraduate and 25 graduate programs offered through the College of Arts and Sciences; the School of Business and Entrepreneurship; and the School of Education and Health Sciences. Signature strengths include the award-winning Cardinal First program for first-generation students; robust undergraduate research and internship opportunities; ABET-accredited engineering programs supported by state-of-the-art facilities; and nationally accredited graduate programs in high-demand healthcare fields. Students also benefit from expansive study-abroad offerings and championship-caliber NCAA Division III athletics that emphasize teamwork, leadership, and community. These strengths have earned North Central consistent recognition from U.S. News & World Report, The Princeton Review, and Money.com.

An integral part of the North Central experience is its award-winning hometown. For the third consecutive year, Niche.com has named Naperville the No. 1 "Best City to Live in America." North Central College — Naperville's university — is embedded in the life of the city, just steps from a vibrant downtown and the scenic Naperville Riverwalk. The community also benefits from Naperville's strong economic base along the I-88 corridor and its convenient 30-minute commuter rail
